Constitution of the Telecommunications Advisory Committee

*214. SHRI JOHN F. FERNANDES: Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that the term of Telecommunications Advisory Committee expired on the 31st May, 1989 and that neither its term has been extended nor a new Telecommunications Advisory Committee has been constituted;

(b) if so, whether Government propose to appoint the new Telecommunications Advisory Committee in the near future; if so, by when;

(c) if not, the reasons therefor; and

(d) whether the old Telecommunications Advisory Committee would be allowed to function until the new one is constituted?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS (SHRI GIRIDHAR GOMANGO): (a) to (d) The name of the Telecom Advisory Committee has not been mentioned in the question. However, it is presumed that it pertains to Goa Telecom Advisory Committee whose term expired on 31-5-89.

The policy on formation of advisory committees being reviewed. The Committee will be constituted after the policy has been finalised.

The term of the old Committee would not be extended.

Production of Computers

*215. PROF. C. LAKSHMANNA: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether it is a fact that computer producion in India is only one per cent of GNP, while it is 5 per cent in the developed countries;

(b) whether it is also a fact that it would continue to be so even at the turn of the century; and

(c) if so, what steps are being taken to improve this position?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY AND THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF OCEAN DEVELOPMENT, ATOMIC ENERGY, ELECTRONICS AND SPACE (SHRI K. R. NARAYANAN): (a) and (b) The compu'er production in India in 1987 was 0.13 per cent of the then Gross National Projects (GNP) as compared to 1.6 per cent and 1.8 per cent of two of the developed countries, namely, USA and Japan, respectively. Assuming the present growth rate of GNP and production, it is expected that the computer production in India will be about 1 per cent of GNP by the turn of the century.

(c) Government has already taken action for the indigenous production of a wide range of computers. namely, mainframes, superminis, workstations and microcomputers. Action is also being taken for making available personal computers at cheaper cost to widen the application base and to popularise computers both in educational and institu'ional levels. Also action is being taken to keep abreast of technology through intensive research and development.

Constitution of review committee on career advancement scheme

*216. SHRI SATYA PRAKASH MALAVIYA: Will the PRIME MINISTER be pleased to state:

(a) whether the Review Committee on Career Advancement Scheme, 1987 constituted by a resolution by the General Body of the NRDC Staff Union on the 3rd August, 1988 had submitted its report on the 6th September, 1988, if so, what are its recommendations; and action taken thereon; and

(b) whether the M.D., National Research Development Corporation has made a Career Advancement Scheme; if so, whether the same has been approved by Government?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY AND THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE DEPARTMENTS OF OCEAN DEVELOPMENT, ATOMIC ENERGY, ELECTRONICS AND SPACE (SHRI K. R. NARAYANAN): (a) It is understood that in 1988, the NRDC Staff Union had formed a Review Committee on the Corporation's "Career Advancement Scheme, 1987" brought into force by the Corporation w.e.f. November, 1987. The NRDC Staff Union neither informed the Management of the recommendations made nor submitted any report to the Management.

(b) The management had drawn up a "Career Advancement Scheme" for the National Research Development Corporation (NRDC) in the first half of 1987, which was considered by the Board of Directors of the Corporation at its meeting held on July 21st, 1987 and approved. The Scheme as so approved by the Board was discussed by the management with both the Officers' Association and the Staff Union and both bodies consented in writing to the adoption of the Scheme with a few amendments most of which were agreed to by the management and the Scheme implemented on that basis. As per the regulations in force the competent authority for approving such Schemes is the Board of Directors of the Corporation and the approval of the Government is not required.
